DEAD

If you stop to think about it you will understand that drugs can lose all their life and power. All the physician's skill and druggists' accuracy can be brought to naught by dead drugs. Dead drugs are really dead stock. Dead stock means dull trade. Our business wouldn't let us accumulate dead stock if we tried—and we're not trying. If you want live drugs come to the live store.

PRETTY MORNING MARRIAGE.

Miss Sallie M. Thomas Weds Mr. Walter D. Marsh.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Thomas on East Market street was beautifully decorated for the marriage of their daughter Miss Sallie M. Thomas to Mr. Walter D. Marsh, which event was solemnized at seven o'clock this morning. The bridal couple stood under a large bell, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. J. C. Rowe, pastor of West Market street church.

The marriage was attended by a large number of the friends of the contracting parties and the presents were numerous, beautiful and useful. Mr. and Mrs. Marsh left at 7:30 for Thomasville to spend a few days at the home of the groom's parents, after which they will return and make their home in Greensboro. The Telegram joins their other friends in wishing for them much happiness and prosperity.

A Letter from a Most Beautiful and Talented Lady.

Chicago, November 22, 1898.

Messrs. W. W. Kimball Co.
Gentlemen:—Kindly ship the Kimball Grand I selected at your warehouse, that it may reach my home at Vallombrosa, Italy, by the time of my return from America, which will be about May 1st.

The Kimball Baby Grand which I purchased for the music-room in my Paris home has lost none of its original richness and brilliancy of tone, and I am more than ever pleased with it. It also has that marvelous quality of keeping in tune.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) Emma Eames Story.

A Very Sick Man.

In response to a telegram received last night from Dr. J. W. Long, of Salisbury, Dr. J. E. Brooks met the 9:32 train last night to attend Mr. R. A. Sanders, of Norfolk, who was returning from the mountains. Mr. Sanders is suffering with pulmonary trouble and is very sick. He is accompanied by his wife. Dr. Brooks met them and they are at the McAdoo today, but expect to leave at 11:45 tonight for their home. The sick man was taken suddenly worse while sojourning in the mountains and the journey home was so arduous to him in his weakened and exhausted condition that he was compelled to rest over here a day.

Says Very Little About Price.

In reading the copy of Rankin, Chisholm, Stroud & Rees's ad, as found on fourth page of this paper, we observe that the ad contained nothing about price, and we took occasion to ask why this was, as we had frequently noticed that they omitted this matter, which many merchants deem the most important part of an advertisement. We were answered thus: Price conveys no idea of values when appearing only on paper. But merchandise and price combined give the purchaser an opportunity to judge the values. We advertise our merchandise and make prices consistent with value. "See?" "We see."

Will Be Immeasurable.

Calling at the store of D. Bendheim & Sons, a reporter found the new fall and winter goods arriving. The force of clerks are busy arranging and getting ready for the big trade they are sure to have. The handsome and most magnificent line of dress goods, curtains, drapery, etc., this progressive has ever displayed are in their fall stock, and the public will be duly informed about them through the advertising columns of the Telegram. Watch their space for the opening announcements.

Mrs. Andrew's Death.

Mrs. Margaret Andrew, whose death was announced day before yesterday, was 88 years old. She died at the home of her son, John W. Andrew, nine miles east of the city, and was buried yesterday at Mt. Hope R. formed Church. Her funeral was preached by her grandson, Rev. James D. Andrew, in pursuance of her request made about five years ago. Mr. William Andrew, son of the deceased, who resides in Greensboro, returned last night from the funeral.

Lieut. Gilmer will only be here a day or two and if you want to join the army, there's no time to lose.

WAR IS STILL IN THE AIR.

Both Sides Continue to Prepare For the Struggle.

REPORT OF THE RAAD MEETING

Of the Orange Free State Awaited With a Great Degree of Interest at Cape Town.

Pietermaritzburg, Sept. 21.—The Royal Durban Fusiliers went today to Ladysmith, an excellent strategic point for frontier cover for several important points. They have been constantly fated since their arrival.

War talk at Durban among the burghers shows a strong sentiment toward a league with the Transvaal.

ALREADY ACCEPTED.

Cape Town, Sept. 21.—Afrikaner members of the Cape parliament meeting last night sent a dispatch to Kruger, tendering him the sympathy of the South African Republic and urging him to make any sacrifice for peace except the independence of the republic. They say that a joint inquiry may provide a way out. Kruger replied immediately that the joint inquiry had been already accepted, thanking them for their efforts towards a pacific solution of the dispute, and hoping that their and his work would not prove fruitless.

MILNER AND STEIN.

Cape Town, Sept. 21.—A text of the telegrams which have been received from Milner and President Stein were published today. Milner demands the neutrality of the Orange Free State in the event of war and assures the government of England's protection. Stein is evasive and ominous, but hopeful of a peaceful settlement and warns Milner that the burghers may resort to the military preparations of the Boers. "If any unwished-for development arises therefrom," continues Stein, "the responsibility doesn't lie with this government."

AWAITED WITH INTEREST.

Cape Town, Sept. 21.—The report of today's meeting of the raad of the Orange Free State is awaited with great interest. Opinion as to what will be decided varies. One statement is to the effect that the raad will divide that the Orange Free State shall join the Transvaal.

PREPARATIONS CONTINUE.

London, Sept. 21.—The report that Kruger has personally petitioned the queen to avert hostilities isn't confirmed. The English correspondents in South Africa say that Kruger is determined upon war. Preparations are going on rapidly on both sides. The Boers are massing at the British troops are reaching Ladysmith and Kimberley. The Transvaal forces are encamped at Zandpoort and intend to raid Natal immediately after Chamberlain sends his ultimatum.

PHILIPPINE COMMISSIONERS

Will Recommend That Otis Be Replaced By an Able General.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM
Manila, Sept. 21.—It is learned that the commissioners sent to the Philippines will report unanimously against the administration of Otis. They will urge a change of commanders.

A Saving of Coal.

The difference in the quantity of smoke and cinders and the quantity of coal consumed on the fast trains of the Southern now compared with what it was some time ago is remarkable. The consumption of coal has been reduced thirty per cent. by the change in the way of feeding the coal in the furnace. There is said to be a corresponding decrease in smoke and cinders.

It would be worth while to investigate and see if this is equally true of stationary engines.

The Handsome Costumes

For the Gate City Band minstrels arrived last night and they are beauties. Without a doubt it will be the prettiest sight ever seen in this city given either by a professional or amateur performance. Neither money or pains have been spared to make the entertainment a crowning success. New jokes, new songs, and, in fact, a revelation in minstrelsy. It will be put on some time in the near future. Wait for them. You will be more than pleased.

The New Organ.

The new organ for the First Presbyterian church is about half built at the factory in Boston. As soon as completed there it will be tried and if found satisfactory will be taken to pieces and shipped here and put up. This will probably be about the 1st of November. It is to be hoped that Professor Parker will give a recital when the new instrument arrives.

Mrs. W. H. Ragas returned home from a visit to Greensboro last night.

D. L. Elliott, of Warren, and W. D. Smith, of Winston, were here yesterday.

Mrs. Brower and Jones, of Trinity, passed through last evening enroute to Statesville.

Miss Florence Blair, of Asheboro, is visiting her sister, Mrs. A. M. Rankin, at the Jarrell.

Alf. Fraley went to Wilmington this morning to accept a position as fireman on the Seaboard Air Line.

The High Point Normal and Industrial College began this morning. A goodly number from a distance is present.

Mrs. Helan Vaughn, of Augusta, Ga., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donahue Smith, of this city, arrived last night to spend some time.

There were thirty-eight pupils present last night at the commercial school, just begun in the opera house. A very good beginning.

If you never saw a real good minstrel go to the opera house next Saturday night. You will always be glad you did. Tickets now on sale at Matton's drugstore.

One of our new subscribers, who is capable of judging, met us on the street yesterday morning and remarked: "The Telegram is a clean, new paper. I like it ever so much."

Such and like expressions are appreciated by the management as well as by the High Point representative.

A. V. Sapp, the racket man, knows a good thing when he sees it. Several days ago he ordered a case containing two or three hundred knives to retail at ten cents each. They arrived last night and in about one hour he had disposed of 57 of them. Everyone of them looked like the regular 25 and 50 cent kind.

There was a runaway near the depot this morning. A horse hitched to a dray became frightened at a pile of rocks. There was a buggy and a one horse wagon standing close by, but this didn't cut any figure with the frightened beast. He jumped clear of the buggy but ran the dray into the wagon damaging the latter considerably. Tay Wilson owns the horse and drives for the High Point Provision Co. He, the dray and horse escaped almost without a scratch.

I Am Sorry.

I am sorry to have aroused the ire of any factory representatives who may happen to have "saw in and live" here. My purpose is not to get up a newspaper controversy, but to defend a legitimate business which I have built up in a legitimate way from temporary losses. Some very intelligent and experienced fish have been known to bite at artificial flies and their discovery that a mistake has been made brings sorrow but don't help matters. And so again I urge the point that reputable concerns do not offer to retail goods with the cost of retailing omitted and an offer to do so is always regarded with suspicion, to say the least of it, by people who take the trouble to think. And most people who buy pianos and pay for them do think. Come to see me.

John B. Wright.

A New Clock.

The Southern Railway has put a clock in the waiting room of the depot. It is a large clock supposed to be well behaved and correct in its habits. A man however asked John Graham the time today. He was referred to the clock. "Is that clock right?" he asked. The agent remarked that he thought it a trifle exacting to have to furnish the time and then have to swear it was right.

MARY ANN FOR GOVERNOR.

The Report That He Will Be Nominated Without Foundation.

GREAT RECEPTION TO DEWEY.

Arrangements for It Are Being Made.

The Committee in Charge Say It Will Be a Success.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Sept. 21.—Mr. Lawrence Gardner, whose death occurred in this city Tuesday morning, was one of the best known democrats of the District of Columbia. For years he has been an active worker in the local organization of this District, and has held the high esteem of all the members from all sections of the country with whom he has come in contact. As secretary of the democratic committee, which office he held four years, Mr. Gardner rendered effective work for his party in the congressional elections in which his services were engaged. Mr. Gardner was a warm friend of Ex-Senator Faulkner, of West Virginia, who has just been chosen as counsel for the Southern Railway. During the Cleveland campaign the deceased was a warm supporter of Hon. Grover Cleveland for the presidency, but he refused to follow the ex-President during the memorable campaign of 1896, when the influence of the national administration was exerted against the candidacy of Mr. Bryan.

As a public citizen, Mr. Gardner enjoyed a wide acquaintance, and although connected with many enterprises, was always looked upon as a man of high intelligence and unimpeachable integrity. Mr. Gardner was in charge of the arrangements for the great inaugural ball which occurred at the time of Mr. Cleveland's second induction into the office of president. The success of that ball which was held at the pension bureau building was due to his immense amount of energy more than any other cause.

In religion Mr. Gardner was a devout Catholic, and the funeral services will be conducted by Dr. Stafford, and be held at St. Patrick's church.

Mr. Gardner was well-known to Virginia people, having taken a prominent part in many of the local campaigns in that state.

North Carolina republicans in Washington say that the talk about the republicans nominating Senator Marion Butler for governor to succeed Governor Russell, and of nominating a full ticket composed entirely of populists, instead of placing a republican ticket in the field, is without foundation. The republicans, they say, at the next election in North Carolina will have a full state ticket in the field. While very few republicans will predict that the democratic state ticket next year will be defeated, many can be found, including such lights as Senator Pritchard, who do not hesitate to say with a show of confidence that McKinley will carry the state one year from the coming November, and will get the electoral vote of the state. On what the republicans of North Carolina base their hopes of carrying the state for McKinley is not clear. Democrats and republicans alike admit that the constitutional amendment depriving the negroes of the ballot will be adopted by at least fifty thousand majority, and democrats say that without the negro vote, North Carolina would never have wavered in her allegiance to the democracy.

It is reported that Governor McSwain, of South Carolina, Governor Tyler, of Virginia, Governor Sayers, of Texas, and many other southern executives will be in Washington next month to attend the Washington reception to Admiral Dewey.

The arrangements for the reception are going on, and the committee having it in charge are confident that it will be a success. It is thought a very large crowd will be in Washington next month to see the admiral, and the fact that the president and cabinet will attend the reception here, and not at New York, makes the Washington affair the national reception.

Representative Swanson was in Washington the other day on his way home from Canada, where he has spent a portion of the summer months. Mr. Swanson while absent from Virginia has kept well informed with the senatorial situation in the state, and he said that Martin will defeat Tyler in the legislature three to one.

Many of the companies of the different state militia, who are going to New York to attend the Dewey reception there, will, it is thought, come to Washington to take part also in the military parade at the national capital. Among the companies going to New York are the state militia of South Carolina, Texas and many other southern states.

It is stated at the navy department that it is not at all likely that there will be any change in the assignment of Admiral Schley, as requested the other day by Governor Lowndes and other members of the Maryland delegation who called on President McKinley.

Otis A. Benedict has been commissioned postmaster at Roseland, North Carolina.

A Good Thing—Push It Along

Editor Telegram:

There is one branch of industrial development in Greensboro that would bring as good results for the money invested as anything that could be done, and that is the building of a first-class warehouse for the sale of leaf tobacco. There is hardly a branch of trade that means more for this town than a strong tobacco market.

Killed by Moonshiners.

Atlanta, Sept. 20.—John L. Harna, chief of police of Dalton, Ga., was shot and killed today by three moonshiners whom he was trying to arrest. A posse of 125 men was organized and started in pursuit of the moonshiners. A special train carrying a party of detectives, accompanied by bloodhounds, have left Chattanooga for Dalton to aid in the capture of the murderers.

A Mailing Clerk Kills Himself.

Jackson, Miss., Sept. 20.—Clairborne Whiting, 24 years of age, employed as mailing clerk in the postoffice, and a member of one of the most prominent families in the city, committed suicide today. He left a note saying: "Ill health caused the deed, return pistol to postoffice."

JOHN BULL'S GAME.

The ruse that Great Britain is trying to work on the Boers is shamefully bull-dozing. She demands that the South African republic grant to Uitlanders (foreigners) naturalization and the right to vote without their forswearing allegiance to their foreign governments. Of course, soon after being naturalized they will vote to become part of the British Empire, and as they already outnumber the Boers three to one, the meaning of John Bull's little scheme becomes very apparent.

An able writer from New York, writing in the Richmond Times of this question, among other things says:

Americans cannot give England even moral support in this wrong doing.

Such a course for the United States would be national suicide.

And our fellow countrymen, without regard to party, will soon awaken to this truth.

Besides this, England has no right to interfere with the autonomy of the South African Republic. The "suzerainty" claimed by England relates at the utmost only to dealings between that Republic and foreign powers.

The only words relating to suzerainty in the treaty of 1884 between England and the Boers are "Article 4. The South African Republic will conclude no treaty or engagement with any state or nation other than the Orange Free State nor with any native tribe to the eastward or westward of the Republic until the same has been approved of by her Majesty, the Queen." The word "suzerainty" does not occur in it, but was abrogated with the treaty of 1881.

No possible "Anglo-American alliance" should require our great country, either to aid England in doing any wrong, or to stultify ourselves.

"Blood is thicker than water," and these South African Republicans are of the same blood with the New York and New Jersey Americans of Holland and of Dutch-Huguenot descent, who fought England in the American Revolution, and again in 1812 when England still claimed a suzerainty right to search American vessels.

Mountains of gold and oceans of diamonds cannot save our country from the ultimate consequences of upholding English rapacity, for present gain.

The spirits of the Boers are thoroughly aroused and they are awaiting the opening of hostilities with desperate courage. Great Britain is rushing troops and war material to the Transvaal as fast as steam can transport them.

It certainly looks like war.

Shakespeare said it is better to be three hours ahead of time than one minute late. But the great poet had never heard of a great railroad system. In the railroad business, one must be on time. Not too early, nor a minute too late. Because a freight conductor's watch was a few minutes behind time, yesterday morning a passenger train and a freight train clashed together near Kansas City. Four people were killed and four injured. It is better to be always on time in any occupation, and the law commands promptness in the railroad business. To be unwittingly late is criminal.

In the lush of a tropical night a fleet of iron and steel sped over the eastern sea, and as the blue waves of Manila bay sparkled and gleamed in the gorgeous rays of the rising sun the ships of proud Castile and Arragon went down amid a pitiless storm of shot and shell, and the bones of her seamen are hid by the sea that swallowed them up. Dewey gave it to them where Mary had the mumps. He is the only fly speck on the ceiling, and he is coming home soon to get his rake-off in the way of arches, receptions, bands, jeweled swords and other things more or less boring.

Newspaper has gone up. Not newspapers, but news paper. The advance in the price per pound is a quarter of a cent. The effect is demonstrated in the case of the New York city newspapers, which use 400 tons of paper per day. The raise costs them $20,000 a day.

The drought of last summer, seriously impairing the water power of the paper mills, is charged with the mischief.

We do not know what Admiral Dewey's political creed is. He is a good fighter, all right, but as a civil ruler he might be different. The fact that he is being supported so strenuously for the presidency by New York World is the worst thing recorded against him to date.

There is every reason to believe that Dewey Day at New York will be very dewy.

PRESBYTERY OF ORANGE.

Peace Institute Adopted as the School of the Presbytery.

The opening sermon of Orange Presbytery was delivered in the old Hawfields church, near Mebane, on Tuesday night, by Rev. W. P. McCorkle, of Graham.

The Rev. E. E. Gillespie was elected Moderator.

On Wednesday morning, Rev. E. C. Murray, D. D., presented the report of an ad interim committee on Peace Institute. This report favored a joint relationship of Albemarle and Orange Presbyteries toward this school for young women, under a united board of directors having five members from each Presbytery.

The Rev. Eugene Daniel, of Raleigh, and President James Dinwiddie, of Peace Institute, being present, upon invitation delivered addresses before the Presbytery and the large congregation, which by this time filled the old Hawfields church. Dr. Murray also spoke clearly and forcibly in favor of his report, which was then adopted unanimously by a rising vote. The same action has already been taken with equal enthusiasm by the Presbytery of Albemarle. Both bodies expressed warm gratitude for the kindness of the late S. Vanhope Pullen and his heirs in so long holding the stock of Peace Institute so as to protect the interests of the Presbyterian church.

The joint directors of the two Presbyteries are Rev. Eugene Daniel, Rev. A. R. Shaw, Rev. F. W. Farries, Rev. E. C. Murray, Rev. H. S. Brad, Rev. W. P. McCorkle, and ruling elders, W. S. Primrose, Leo D. Hearty, J. N. Holmes and C. M. Brown. Under the supervision of this board, plans for enlarging the influence and patronage of this already eminently successful school may be expected.

Washington, Sept. 20.—The following cablegram has been received at the Navy Department from Commander Hemphill, of the Detroit. A few words are missing:

"U. S. Steamship Detroit, 'Laguayra, Venezuela, Sept. 20."

"Secretary of the Navy: 'About four thousand men (insurgents), now principally in the vicinity of Valencia, recently occupied Puerto Cabello unopposed; later evacuated position. The Venezuelan forces took possession * * * principal American interests Red D Line. Red D Line's steamer leaves today from Laguayra for Puerto Cabello; fear possible injury in the event of fight * * * with the advice of American charge d'affaires I shall proceed at once to Puerto Cabello, Venezuela, to protect American interests. A PARDON THAT CONDEMNS.

If Innocent the Prisoner is Entitled to Vindication.

The pardon of Captain Dreyfus will be an act of worldly wisdom rather than of justice. The ethical problem involved in the "affaire" will be evaded, not solved. If innocent the prisoner is entitled to vindication, not a dishonorable discharge; for pardon implies guilt, and guilt, though forgiven, leaves a stain. Moreover, the pardon has only been determined on by the French ministry "in principle"; that is to say provisionally, and with the understanding that Dreyfus shall abandon his right of appeal to the supreme military tribunal at Paris, and ultimately to the court of cassation. Perhaps this right is not a very valuable one for the prisoner, and will be readily foregone by him for the sake of spending the remainder of his shattered life with his wife and children. The chances of a reversal of the verdict of the Rennes court martial by any French military court are infinitesimally small in view of the premeditation of the army with the prejudices of the warrior caste, and an appeal to the highest civil tribunal would lie only on the ground of newly discovered evidence. The acceptance of the bargain by Dreyfus may, therefore, be regarded as a certainty.

If France be willing to assume the odium of this lame and impotent conclusion the victim of her injustice can have no occasion to complain. The latter will have the better part of the bargain. The world has done for him what his country has refused to do; he has been acquitted by universal public opinion, and can dwell anywhere outside of France respected by his neighbors and associates. The brand of shame wherewith his brother officers, with incredible obstinacy in preconceived opinion, have sought to mark him will be invisible to the eyes of fair-minded men. No stigma will be on his name, nor on that of his children. Unless he esteem the privilege of living in the country that has wronged him higher than he has any reasonable cause to value it he will exile himself from France without a pang. It will be France that will remain dishonored by condoning a crime and failing to hunt down the criminals who have besmirched her.

The peace which the ministry will have bought by pardoning one who has been tortured to the limit of human endurance will be but a poor, patched-up truce. There will be no peace for France so long as her traders shall be permitted to lift up their heads and occupy places of trust and eminence in her service. Until the general staff shall have been purged of the hyenas who have disgraced it the honor of the army, so greatly prized by France, will remain a by-word among her friends and a target for the contempt of her enemies.

If anything were needed to perfect her self-condemnation it would be the proposed exercise of executive clemency. Her guiltiness was once proven out of her own mouth by the verdict "with extenuating circumstances" delivered at Rennes in punishment of a crime for which there could be no extenuation but the innocence of the accused; it will be proven again when she shall pardon one whose offense is unpardonable except on the theory that his conviction was unjust.—Philadelphia Record.

No Cure—No Pay.

That is the way all druggists sell Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic for Chills and Malaria. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults prefer it to bitter, nauseating tonics. Price, 50c.

A Clever Trick.

It certainly looks like it, but there is really no trick about it. Anybody can try it who has lame back or weak kidneys, malaria or nervous troubles. We mean he can cure himself right away by using Electric Bitters. This medicine tones up the whole system, acts as a stimulant to the liver and kidneys, is a blood purifier and nerve tonic. It cures constipation, headache, fainting spells, sleeplessness and melancholy. It is purely vegetable, a mild laxative, and restores the system to its natural vigor. Try Electric Bitters and be convinced that they are a miracle worker. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c a bottle at C. E. Ho's drug store.

You assume no risk when you buy Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. C. E. Holton will refund your money if you are not satisfied after using it. It is everywhere admitted to be the most successful remedy in use for bowel complaint and the only one that never fails. It is pleasant, safe and sellable.
